

2053

M.A. (English) Fourth Semester
Paper – XVI [Opt. (i)]: Post Colonial Literature - II

Time allowed: 3 Hours

Max. Marks: 80

NOTE: Attempt all questions.

x-x-x

- I. How is science employed in the debate about hybridity? How does Robert Young respond to a scientific understanding of the concept?

OR

Critically analyse Rhys' "Wide Sargasso Sea" as a novel of diaspora and hybridity. (16)

- II. How does Rege interrogate the position of Dalit narratives in the political space of caste struggle? Discuss with reference to the global capitalist endeavour to weaken the struggle.

OR

How does Bama underline the condition of Dalit Christian women to establish the issue of gender and caste? (16)

- III. Critically analyse how Gilroy elaborates on the double consciousness of Africans in diaspora.

OR

Critically analyse the thematic concerns of Tony Morrison's "Beloved". (16)

- IV. How does Galeano situate Latin America in the politics of global capitalism?

OR

Margaret Atwood's "Surfacing" is a narrative of search for identity. Discuss. (16)

- V. Critically analyse Samuel P Huntington's thesis in "The Clash of Civilizations" in the context of contemporary world politics.

OR

Discuss Mohsin Hamid's "The Reluctant Fundamentalist" against the backdrop of post 9/11 global environment. (16)

x-x-x